

Selected Renditions of Ragas of Hindustani Classical Music

Dear Music Enthusiast:

The following links connect you to selected renditions of ragas of Hindustani classical music by several well-known and highly respected artists and made available on the internet; notes on these ragas are contained in my bansuri and sitar notes available on rangayyan.ca. Some of the renditions listed are legendary; some are blends of current styles and preferences with our traditional arts; some have been my long-time favorites through radio shows and my collections of vinyl records, cassettes, and compact discs; some are constrained by old recording techniques; some provide high-quality video and audio recordings of recent performances. You may find on the internet many more renditions of the same ragas and others by the artists listed below and also other artists of the previous and current generations. Listening to such renditions keeps us connected to our roots; linked to our classical arts, traditions, and culture; in touch with current trends and artists; and immersed in our music. Listening to various artists and performances helps us in learning, practicing, exploring, and advancing in our artistic endeavors.

I wish you success and happiness in your musical pursuits!

Best wishes
Raj Rangayyan
